Fight in Assembly To-Night for More Policemen.

MAY RAISE LIQUOR TAX

Two Horses and a Mule Burned-Rov on Hull Street-Death of Mrs. J. T. Canada-Engineer Hurt. News Notes

Manchester Bureau Times-Dispatch, Carter's Drug Store, 1102 Hull Street. A decided step will be taken at the meeting of the Assembly to-night to Increase the police force by at least two men. The frequent number of small robberles recently reported has put an impetus upon the movement, and at the eting to-night a long petition from citizens and tax-payers will be presented asking for such an increase.

The fight to-night will be led by Messrs. Pettit and Rudd, both of whom have advocated an increase in the force for

At the last meeting of the Finance Committee the resolution to increase the Committee the resolution to increase the force was badly defeated, with four men absent. The vote on the measure stood to 4, with Messrs. Owen, Abbott, Perdue and Fahr voting in the negative and Messrs. Bradley, Rudd, Wakefield and Nunnally in the affirmative. It is claimed that had the full committee been present the vote would have been 7 to 5 in favor of the measure.

Mr. Pettit will move to refer it to a conference committee for action.

The citzons generally, including a large number of business men, many of whom have been seen by The Times-Dispatch representative, are very much in favor of the increase, and it is believed the fight to-night will be a battle royal.

TO RAISE LICENSE FEE.

Another measure that may receive the consideration of the Assembly to-night will be the report of the sub-Committee on Finance, sent out to finquire into the condition of things in reference to an increase in the liquor license. At present the license tax is 130, and it is probable the advocates of an increase will ask that it be placed at $100.

A number of the saloon men were seen last night in reference to the matter. Several of them had heard nothing about the proposed raise, others had, and it was the unanimous sentiment that the jump from $30 to $100 was too great, almost to contemplate.

"Thre is not a saloon man in Manchester who does not observe all the laws in reference to the sale of liquor," said a prominent dealer. "Not a bar in the city keeps open or sells on Sunday, and it does not seem to us that we should be called upon to pay move license taxes than we are at present paying."

BUDGET TO-NIGHT.

The budget will also be considered, and the proposed increase in the salary of Superintendent Allen, of the almshouse, will probably receive some attention, as swell as the further expenditure of funds for new hose for the Fire Department.

STOCK BURNED.

A fire shortly after $0 clock last night destroyed two horses and a mule and a quantity of wood and feed at the West End wood and coal yard, owned by Mr. J. C. Robinson, at Twenty-first and Hull Streets. Within five minutes after the alarm was turned in the department was on the secene and two streams were playing on the stame.

Every effort was made to get the animals from the stable, but the efforts were fruitless, and they were burned to death, while the flames spread along the sheds.

HULL STREET ROW.
Two hurry-up calls were received by Officer Alex. Wright at the station house about 8 o'clock last night, occasioned by a fight on Hull Street with its "rag-chewing" accompaniments from Twelfth to Fourteenth Streets, and it all arose over a little matter of settlement for moving between Messrs. J. E. Williams, the movee, and William Bishop and W. J. Stone, the movers.

for moving between Messrs. J. E. Williams, the movee, and William Bishop and W. J. Stone, the movers.

Mr. Williams employed Mr. Bishop to move him, and Mr. Bishop, being busy, got Mr. Stone to attend to the Job. Mr. Bishop had always done Mr. Williams moving, and he always made it in three loads, but Mr. Stone made four loads, and a little dispute arose accordingly, Mr. Williams agreed to pay Mr. Bishop last night, with the understanding that he was to settle with Mr. Stone. Mr. Stone was on hand at the time, and when the question as to the number of loads came up the row started, and Mr. Williams was struck by Mr. Stone. The latter's son, a young man with a pugilistic turn, got into the game, but did little damage, and then Officer Wright appeared on the seens.

A warrant was sworn out for Mr. Stone's arrest, and he will tell all about it this morning.

It is especially painful and severe when confined to the hands, which often become so badly affected that the sufferer is unable to perform the lightest work. This, like all other types of Eczema, is due to acid poisons in the blood and not to local causes. The trouble is more than skin deep, and washes, soaps, powders and salves nor anything else applied to the surface can possibly do more than soothe the burning and itching or relieve temporarily the infiammation and pain.

YOUNG GIRL CONFESSES

Gertrude Anderson, Arrested Here, Breaks Down,

TELLS THE WHOLE STORY

Says That She Was Used by Dr. Sutorius and William Grebe to Defraud the Central Trust Company of the Republic.

(Special to The Times Dispatch.) NEW YORK, February 9.—Pretty eighteen-year-old Gertrude Anderson, accused with Dr. Francis Alexander Sutorius and William E. Grebe, a clerk in the Central Trust Company of the Republic, of systematically defrauding bank, broke down and confessed in the Criminal Courts building late this

Weeping, the girl admitted to her mother and her lawyer her share in the swindle. She declared that she had been used as a tool, however, and was been used as a tool, however, and was only involved the more deeply in the schemes of the men concerned, when she tried to withdraw.

DETECTIVE'S STORY.

The story, as told by the detective, is that Grebe and another man who is missing and who is said to be wanted by the police, were employed as clerks in the bank. Sutorius and the girl were depositors and were friends of the two clerks.

THEIR SCHEME It is charged that the physician and stenographer drew checks, ranging in amounts from $100 to $200, and would amounts from $100 to $200, and would either take or send them to the bank to be cashed. The cashier, who is in no way involved, after looking at the checks passed them to Grebe, and the missing clerk for verification.

The checks were returned to the cashier marked "O. K.," it is alleged, and the amounts called for would be paid at once.

amounts called for would be paid at once.

She was afraid to be left behind when the conspirators fled and inslated they take her with them.

After hearing the girl's story under oath, Justice Meyer held her in $1,600 ball.

Dr. Sutorius became notorious two years ago by deserting his wife and child and eloping to Europe with seventeen-year-old Adelaide Schell, known as the most beautiful young woman in the Bronx, and spending her money. He is the son of a retired United States army captain.

With the arrest of William Grebe, Dr. Francis A. Sutoris and Miss Gertrude Anderson, all of New York, by Detective-Bergeants Gibson and Wren, assisted by Officer D. P. Jesse, of the metropolis corps of sleuths, yesterday morning, as they were about to leave a Clyde Line steamer, which had just made this port from Philadelphia, there was brought to a pathetic ending a romantic story. The trio are charged with having defrauded the Trust Company of the Republic out of something like $14,000 by a clever conspiracy.

Immediately after their arrest the party was conducted to the Second Police Station, where the two men, both of whom wer elegantly dressed, were locked in cells, while the woman, by permission of Major Howard, chief of police, was taken to the Lexington Hotel, where she remained under close guard until 8 o'clock Sunday night, when, in company with the men, she was taken back to New York.

WELLI KNOWN CLUBMEN.

The prominence of the people lends interest to the story, both Grebe and Sutioris being well known clubmen in New York, where the latter, as a physician, has enjoyed until recently a large and exclusive patronage. He was regarded as quite wealthy.

Grebe, it seems, has for years occupied an important position with the Trust Company of the Republic, which is located in the New York Life Insurance building, on Broadway. He possessed the confidence of the bank officials.

It is charged that Grebe, in the capacity of book-keeper for the Institution, made faise entries of deposits on the books of the company, crediting large accounts to Miss Anderson, with whom he was in love, and Dr. Sutoris, a bosom friend. It is alleged that he persuaded the woman to appear weekly at the bank with a check for a large sum. This would be paid by the teller, upon examination of the books, which always showed a large balance to Miss Anderson's credit. Sutoris, it is which always showed a large balance to Miss Anderson's credit. Sutoris, it is further alleged, indulged in the same practice, and, as a result, something like $14,000 was checked out before the offiwarrants issued.

The discovery came early last week when Grebe is alleged to have suddenly when Grebe is alleged to have suddenly disappeared. Warrants were taken out for the arrest of the absconding book-keeper and Miss Anderson and Dr. Sutoris, as well as some other young fellow, whose name it has been impossible to ascertain. He turned State's evidence and was guaranteed immunity from prosecution upon payment by his father of the money secured by him on bogus checks. A search of two days for the people in New York failed to locate them, after which it was discovered that the trichad gone to Philadelphia, traveling as brothers and sister. In the Quaker City Detective Jesse, of District Attorney Jerome's office, lost track of the bunch, but suspected that they had come on to Washington. He followed.

In Washington the New York officer, assisted by a couple of detectives from ington. Ho followed.

In Washington the New York officer, assisted by a couple of detectives from the Metropolitan force, detailed by Superintendent Sylvester, secured the town for two days until last Friday. He convinced himself that the people he wanted had not stopped in Washington, so he came on to Richmond.

The officer reached here last Friday night, registering at the Lexington Hotel, Saturday morning he called on Major Howard, and after stating, his business asked for assistance. The Chief readily detailed Detectives Gibson and Wern.

CLOSE WATCH KEPT.

Thinking Grebe, Sutoris and Miss Anderson were hiding in the city, a close watch was kept on the postoffice, a number of decoy letters having been malled to them. No one showed up, however, and the officers were about to give up the chase when Detective Wren suggested that it was possible the trio had never some to Washington, but had taken a heat last Thursday at Philadelphia for Richmond. This sounded plausible, and the New York officer decided to remain over yesterday until after the arrival of the Clyde Line steamer.

The surmalse on the part of the local officer proved correct. Sunday morning at 16 o'clock the vessel was sighted steaming up the river, but before she had dropped anchor the officers were abourd, where they found and arrested the three people, all of whom were greatly surprised and chegrined. They thought they had given the police the slip in Philadelphia, and counted upon clear sailing from Richmond.

WILLING TO RETURN.

fight extradition. But they expressed a willingness to return to new York and face the music. Miss Anderson also signified her willingness, and Sunday night at 8 o'clock the three prisoners pulled out of Richmond, closely guarded by Detectives Clibson, Wren and Jesse.

From all accounts, it appears that Miss Anderson, who refused to talk of her family or connections during her brief siny in Richmond, is prominently related in New York. She was induced to join in the affair by Grebe, it is alleged, simply out of infautation for him, thinking that she was sussisting her lover out of a hole, On the boat the trio were booked as brothers and sister, each occupying a different state-room.

Progress marks every statement of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, and the Forty-third Annual Settlement for the Forty-third Annual Settlement for the business of 1962 is no exception to the rule. Growth in Assets, Surplus, Amount in Force and New Business; large increases in Premium and Total Income, in profits paid to policy-holders; reduction in volume of claims by death, together with an expense rate maintained at a minimum as in former years. Those are the features which show that the Society moves forward with every year, and that it has reached a position of remarkable magnitude and stability.

In every respect the statement just presented contains evidence of wanderful growth and security. The assets have increased to $353.35.53.77; the liabilities, including the reserve, calculated by the creased to $359,395,537.72; the liabilities, in-cluding the reserve, calculated by the company, of $279,450,753 to $284,269,304.95, and the difference which constitutes the surplus, is now $75,127,496.77. This is an increase during 1902 of $3,993,454.71. Be-sides adding to the surplus fund this large amount, the Society paid during the year $4.477,924,15 in profits on maturing policies. The total earnings for policy-holders, therefore, during the year were $8,476,378,-86.
